

Within reach

Right
FOR You

Thought living close to the city and North Shore beaches was out of reach? Think again. Smaller in size but by no means in quality, 'right sized' homes like terraces and apartments are coming to Northcote – so you can enjoy owning a home here without breaking the bank. These homes will border Northcote's picturesque new greenway which, once completed, will wind its way from residents' doorsteps, past the revitalised town centre, taking in local schools and parks on the way.
